Insurance made clearer.
Human help built in.

Covva is the name for the customer-facing insurance marketplace for Ghana described in the 20 October 2026 partnership proposal: a long-term technology and insurance-broking partnership with a licensed broker.

Compare cover

Side-by-side options across insurers.

Broker-led quotes

A licensed broker handles quotes and advice.

Mobile policy wallet

Policies, renewals and claims support in one app, plus a web experience.

Source: Allen's partnership proposal (pptx + pdf). The proposal used the working name "Insurance Marketplace"; insurer names in it are illustrative only.

The Canopy C

Two arcs form the C: an outer teal canopy for cover, and an inner gold arc for the broker who stands with the customer. The ink check in the open space is the promise: clearer, sorted, done.

Wordmark: Outfit Light (300), slightly tightened. Never retype it; always use the supplied files.

Arial is the fallback used in the proposal.

Icons: 1.75 px rounded strokes on a 24 grid, teal with a single gold accent; rounded joins echo the Canopy C.

Imagery: bright, natural daylight photography of real Ghanaian people and places: families, traders, drivers, homes. Warm, candid, never staged gloom. Overlay text on snug, slightly translucent white panels. Product screens are always shown in device mockups. Mark any sample data “DEMO”.
